COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT

Phoenix Licensing, L.L.C. (“Phoenix”) and LPL Licensing, L.L.C. (“LPL”) sue Aetna Inc.; Aetna Life Insurance Company; Commerce Bancshares, Inc.; Commerce Bank, N.A.; Cullen/Frost Bankers Inc.; Frost National Bank; HSBC Finance Corporation; HSBC Bank USA, N.A.; HSBC Bank Nevada, N.A.; HSBC Card Services, Inc.; HSBC Technology & Services, Inc.; HSBC Credit Center, Inc.; Liberty Mutual Insurance Company; MetLife, Inc.; Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; MetLife Bank N.A.; Metropolitan Property and Casualty Insurance Company; Mutual of Omaha Insurance Company; United of Omaha Life Insurance Company; United World Life Insurance Company; Sovereign Bank; UnitedHealth Group, Inc.; United HealthCare Insurance Company; Golden Rule Insurance Company; United Healthcare Services, Inc.; and PacifiCare Health Systems LLC.

Introduction

1. Plaintiff Phoenix owns the inventions for the following marketing technology (i.e., the “patented marketing technology”):

- (a) Computerized apparatuses, methods, or systems that implement decision criteria, product information, and client information to automatically select and present products appropriate for the client via client communications (for example, a direct mail communication incorporating variable information) as described and claimed in United States Patent Number 5,987,434 entitled “Apparatus and Method for Transacting Marketing and Sales of Financial Products” (the “‘434 patent”);
- (b) Apparatuses, methods, or systems that automatically prepare customized replies to responses, generated from marketing communications delivered to clients for products or services, such as financial products or services, as described and claimed in United States Patent Number 6,999,938 entitled “Automated Reply Generation Direct Marketing System” (the “‘938 patent”);

(c) Apparatuses, methods, or systems that automatically generate personalized communication documents for financial products or services, where the communications include personalized content that present alternative descriptions, characteristics and/or identifications associated with the financial product or service, as described and claimed in United States Patent Number 7,890,366 entitled “Personalized Communication Documents, System and Method for Preparing Same” (the “‘366 patent”); and

(d) Apparatuses, methods, or systems that automatically prepare client communications pertaining to financial products or services, where the client communications are for combined use with a corresponding host vehicle (for example, an account statement, bill, notice, or letter) as described and claimed in United States Patent Number 6,076,072 entitled “Method and Apparatus for Preparing Client Communications Involving Financial Products and Services” (the “‘072 patent”). (The ‘434, ‘938, ‘366, and ‘072 patents are collectively referred to as the “Patents.”)

2. Pursuant to a license agreement dated December 1, 2006, Plaintiff LPL is the exclusive licensee of the Patents.

3. Defendants (a) have used, and continue to use, Plaintiff Phoenix’s patented marketing technology that they make, use, import, sell, and offer to sell, without Plaintiffs' permission; and (b) have contributed to or induced, and continue to contribute to or induce, others to infringe the Patents.

4. Plaintiffs seek damages for patent infringement and an injunction preventing Defendants from making, using, selling, or offering to sell, and from contributing to and inducing others to make, use, sell, or offer to sell, the patented marketing technology without Plaintiffs' permission.

Jurisdiction and Venue

5. This is an action for patent infringement arising under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. §§ 271 and 281, et seq. The Court has original jurisdiction over this patent infringement action under 28 U.S.C. § 1338(a).

6. Within this judicial district each of the Defendants has committed acts and continues to commit acts that give rise to this action, including making sales of infringing products and offering for sale infringing products. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) and § 1400.

First Claim for Patent Infringement
(infringement of the ‘434 patent)

35. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each of the allegations in paragraphs 1 through 334 above and further allege as follows:

36. The United States Patent and Trademark Office issued the ‘434 patent on November 16, 1999 for inventions covering the following marketing technology: computerized apparatuses, methods, or systems that implement decision criteria, product information, and client information to automatically select and present products appropriate for the client (for example, a direct mail communication incorporating variable information), as described and claimed in the ‘434 patent. Attached as Exhibit A is a copy of the ‘434 patent. Through assignment, Plaintiff Phoenix is the owner of all right, title, and interest in the ‘434 patent, including all rights to pursue and collect damages for past infringements of the patent.

37. Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth have infringed, contributed to the infringement, and induced others to infringe the ‘434 patent and, unless enjoined, will continue to do so, by manufacturing, importing, using, selling, or offering for sale Plaintiffs’ patented marketing technology and by contributing to or inducing others to infringe the claims of the ‘434 patent without a license or permission from Plaintiffs.

38. Plaintiffs have been damaged by the infringement of the ‘434 patent by Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth and will suffer additional irreparable damage and impairment of the value of its patent rights unless Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth are enjoined from continuing to infringe the ‘434 patent.

39. Plaintiffs are entitled to recover damages from Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth as compensation for the infringement of the ‘434 patent.

40. Plaintiffs demand trial by jury of all issues relating to its claims regarding the ‘434 patent.

Second Claim for Patent Infringement
(infringement of the ‘938 patent)

41. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each of the allegations in paragraphs 1 through 34 above and further alleges as follows:

42. The United States Patent and Trademark Office issued the '938 patent on February 14, 2006 for inventions covering the following marketing technology: apparatuses, methods, or systems that automatically prepare customized replies to responses, generated from marketing communications delivered to clients for products or services, such as financial products or services, as described and claimed in the '938 patent. Attached as Exhibit B is a copy of the text of the '938 patent. Through assignment, Plaintiff Phoenix is the owner of all right, title, and interest in the '938 patent, including all rights to pursue and collect damages for past infringements of the patent.

43. Defendants Aetna, Commerce, Frost, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, and UnitedHealth have infringed, contributed to the infringement, and induced others to infringe the '938 patent and, unless enjoined, will continue to do so, by manufacturing, importing, using, selling, or offering for sale Plaintiffs' patented marketing technology and by contributing to or inducing others to infringe the claims of the '938 patent without a license or permission from Plaintiffs.

44. Plaintiffs have been damaged by the infringement by Defendants Aetna, Commerce, Frost, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, and UnitedHealth of the '938 patent and will suffer additional irreparable damage and impairment of the value of its patent rights unless Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, and UnitedHealth are enjoined from continuing to infringe the '938 patent.

45. Plaintiffs are entitled to recover damages from Defendants Aetna, Commerce, Frost, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, and UnitedHealth as compensation for the infringement of the '938 patent.

46. Plaintiffs demand trial by jury of all issues relating to its claims regarding the '938 patent.

Third Claim for Patent Infringement
(infringement of the '366 patent)

47. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each of the allegations in paragraphs 1 through 34 above and further alleges as follows:

48. The United States Patent and Trademark Office issued the '366 patent on February 15, 2011 for inventions covering the following marketing technology: apparatuses, methods, or systems that automatically generate personalized marketing communications for financial products or services, where the communications include personalized content that present alternative descriptions, characteristics and/or identifications associated with the financial product or service, as described and claimed in the '366 patent. Attached as Exhibit C is a copy of the text of the '366 patent. Through assignment, Plaintiff Phoenix is the owner of all right, title, and interest in the '366 patent, including all rights to pursue and collect damages for past infringements of the patent.

49. Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth have infringed, contributed to the infringement, and induced others to infringe the '366 patent and, unless enjoined, will continue to do so, by manufacturing, importing, using, selling, or offering for sale Plaintiffs' patented marketing technology and by contributing to or inducing others to infringe the claims of the '366 patent without a license or permission from Plaintiffs.

50. Plaintiffs have been damaged by the infringement by Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth of the ‘366 patent and will suffer additional irreparable damage and impairment of the value of its patent rights unless Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth are enjoined from continuing to infringe the ‘366 patent.

51. Plaintiffs are entitled to recover damages from Defendants Aetna, Commerce, HSBC, Liberty, MetLife, Mutual of Omaha, Sovereign, and UnitedHealth as compensation for the infringement of the ‘366 patent.

52. Plaintiffs demand trial by jury of all issues relating to its claims regarding the ‘366 patent.

Fourth Claim for Patent Infringement
(infringement of the ‘072 patent)

53. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each of the allegations in paragraphs 1 through 34 above and further alleges as follows:

54. The United States Patent and Trademark Office issued the ‘072 patent on June 13, 2000 for inventions covering the following marketing technology: apparatuses, methods, or systems that automatically prepare client communications pertaining to financial products or services, where the client communications are for combined use with a corresponding host vehicle (for example, an account statement, bill, notice, or letter) as described and claimed in the ‘072 patent. Attached as Exhibit D is a copy of the text of the ‘072 patent. Through assignment, Plaintiff Phoenix is the owner of all right, title, and interest in the ‘072 patent, including all rights to pursue and collect damages for past infringements of the patent.

55. Defendant HSBC has infringed, contributed to the infringement, and induced others to infringe the ‘072 patent and, unless enjoined, will continue to do so, by manufacturing, importing, using, selling, or offering for sale Plaintiffs' patented marketing technology and by contributing to or inducing others to infringe the claims of the '072 patent without a license or permission from Plaintiffs.

56. Plaintiffs have been damaged by Defendant HSBC's infringement of the '072 patent and will suffer additional irreparable damage and impairment of the value of its patent rights unless Defendant HSBC is enjoined from continuing to infringe the '072 patent.

57. Plaintiffs are entitled to recover damages from Defendant HSBC as compensation for the infringement of the '072 patent

58. Plaintiffs demand trial by jury of all issues relating to its claims regarding the '072 patent.
